BODILY VIOLENCE IN THE ASSEMBLY.

Sergeant-at-Arms and Assistant Give Otto Kempner a Rough Handling.

A Disgraceful Scene in Which the Democrat Was Made the Victim of Brutality.

The Incident Humiliating to the Republicans Because He Had Right on His Side.

TRIED TO HURL HIM INTO A SEAT.

In the Fierce Struggle That Ensued the Legislator Was So Severely Scratched on His Right Hand That Blood Came.

Albany, March 10 .- Speaker Fish's determination to keep the Assembly in session until the Senate had passed the Raines bill caused violences and nervous tension such as had not before been experienced during the session. In the first place, in the interest of speed, he wished to receive the Raines bill and have it committed to the Assembly Excise Committee, so that it could be taken up as a special order on Thursday, so that the Republican Assembly caucus could be held to-night.

In the second place the Speaker had heard that the Republican Assemblymen from cities oposed to the gill intended to have a little caucus of their own at 5 o'clock in the evening, and he wished the Assembly session to run beyond 5 o'clock, for the purpose of preventing this anti-

DEMOCRATS TO THE RESCUE,
The Democrats in the Assembly appreciated the Republican desires, and attempted to secure an adpournment on six different occasions. The Democrats I nthe Senate, also understanding the Republican pro gramme, determined to postpone the passage of the Raines bill until late in the evening in order to prevent the party caucus of the Assembly from being held to-night or at least to force the machine leaders in the Assembly to call a caucus on the Raines bill before that bill had passed the Senate. The Democrats were cessful in their efforts, and the Assembly party caucus was called two hours beore the Raines bill passed the Senate.

the Democratic leader, had for the fourth mine rnaved to adjourn. This motion necessitated the calling of the roll, and everybody was feverish and angry, a frame of mind which the foul air in the Assembly man Otis H. Mrs rapped with his gavel and attempted to drown Mr. Kempner's voice. Finding this unsuccessful, the Speaker shouted: 'The gentleman will take his seat.'

"I rise to a point of order," insisted Mr. Kempner, in his loudest voice. "The gentleman will take his seat," yelled Speaker Fish. "The sergeant-atarms will compel the gentleman to take his seat." Sergeant-at-Arms Reinhardt and his assistant, Joseph Bauer, advanced to Mr. Keropuer. In a legislative body such an order by the presiding officer is purely formal and never does the Sergeant-at-Arms lay hands upon a meber. He merely stands at the side of a member, and this is usually sufficient. The enthusiastic Bauer thought the Speaker's order meant that he should seize Mr. Kempner and hurl him into his thair. Bauer grasped Mr. Kempner by both honiders and attempted to force him down.

There was instant and indescribable confusion. Members from all parts of the hall rushed forward. Sergeant-at-Arms Reinhardt lost his head and grabbed Mr. Kempner by the arm, and attempted to assist his deputy in forcing Mr. Kempner to be seated. The indignity caused Mr. Kempner to resist.

"I rise to a point of order," vociferated Mr. Kempner. "I stand on my rights as a member of this body. My point of order is valid. I refuse to be seated. This is an outrage and the most scandalous attempt

There is only one way to get well. Do whatever you will, if you do not put your digestion in good order, and make your blood rich and pure, you will not get well. will not get well.
Rich, pure blood is all diseases, consumption, is a disease of the blood. The disease shows in the lungs because of some inherited or acquired weakness there. If the blood were always pure and without germs, the disease would never develop and in time weakness itself would be overcome. Germs and impurities in the blood float along through the body until they find a weak spot for lodgement. They stick there and develop and people call the disease by the name of the organ afflicted. As a matter of fact, the disease is always a disease of the blood, and if the blood be purified, the disease will be cured. That is a perfectly natural, rational conclusion, endorsed both by common sense and the highest medical authority. It is in accordance with these facts that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery works. The first thing it does is to put the whole digestive system into perfect order. It stimulates the appetite, excites the copious secretion of the digestive fluids and promotes assimilation. It searches out disease germs wherever they may be, kills them and forces them out of the system. The "Golden Medical Discovery" has been used with unvarying success for over 30 years.
